CORNUCOPIA DISTRICT.

Quite a number of persons who made a flying trip to the new mines from this place, to satisfy themselves as to the correctness of the reports from that point, have returned, and all with whom we have conversed express themselves without hesitation as being convinced that neither the value of the strike nor the general character of the country have been in the slightest degree exaggerated, and they are now making preparations to return for a prolonged stay.

We were shown specimens of ore from several new locations that were good enough to satisfy any reasonable man. Mr. Boulton, of Bullionville District, brought with him samples of ore for assay, from other new locations, and judging from appearances we shall be much mistaken if they do not run high in the precious metals.

The ledges from which these samples were taken are large and well defined, and should the ore prove as rich as appearances indicate the parties owning them have secured about all they need desire of this world's wealth. We learned yesterday morning from a resident of this place that the country has been in conjunction with four other persons located a gold bearing ledge 20 miles south of Cornucopia in the same range. A shaft five feet square has been sunk next the hanging wall, which is well defined, showing a clay seam, but the lower wall has not yet been reached. At a depth of five feet the rock is said to have prospected well in free gold. Samples of the ore have been sent to Virginia for assay. So soon as returns are made particulars will be given. Unlike a majority of the mining districts in Eastern Nevada, the pay ore in the instance does not seem to be confined to an area of a few hundred yards, but is scattered at intervals in a southerly direction from the first location over the range 20 miles in extent. Only a few days prior to the new strike, the old mines situated eight miles south of the diggings, and found one of the prettiest locations we have ever seen in the State. A tunnel 50 feet in length was run upon the ledge, showing a vein five feet wide, between two smooth walls, clay seams, from which issued a stream of water three inches in volume. The casings are of granite, and the assays showed $15 in gold and $52.50 in silver. We also found good float six miles south of these locations, but could not spare the time to do any prospecting. [Elko Independence.]

A PLEASANT INCIDENT OF THE WAR—The Richmond Enquirer, speaking of General W. H. Lytle, of Ohio, killed while attempting to reinforce General Thomas, in 1863, uses the following language: "He was killed far in advance of his command, while gallantly leading an assault on our lines. His horse bore his corpse into our lines, and the steel and his dead rider were both captured. So soon as it was known that the author of that rare poem, as familiar and as greatly admired South as North, 'I am dying, I die,' lay down in the extension of his arms, and men crowded around to take a last look at the face of the poet-soldier who had achieved so great a literary triumph. There was no rejoicing over the death of this fallen enemy; but there was, in truth, something on each soldier's cheek that for the moment washed away the stains of powder. Tenderly they took him up, and when the battle was over an escort of honor, appointed from among the leading Confederate officers, bore him back to his own camp under guard of trust, on a rudely constructed funeral bier, with his martial cloak around him. In life he had touched that chord of human sympathy which makes all the world kin, and in death its harmonious vibrations uttered all remembrance and thrilled the hearts alike of friends and foes with a nobler passion than hatred or revenge."

ANOTHER OPPOSITE OF CHINESE ENCROACHMENT.—Antonio Valero, a new recruit to the population from the dreary-trodden peasantry of sunny Italy, is engaged in a fruit and vegetable business on Dupont street. The first impression of the country experienced by this gentleman was the imminent danger which threatened his institutions by the influx of Chinese immigration, and with a high sense of public spirit, he anticipated the decayed vegetables and bad eggs that accumulate in his establishment to discourage the presence of the heathen on these shores. A Chinaman, whose curiosity had been excited from being struck in the nose and eyes on different occasions by missiles of this offensive character, ventured to inquire the cause of the persecution. Valero rebuked such presumption from the inferior race by knocking the Chinaman down and mutilating his countenance. [S. F. Bulletin.]

A FURTHER ATTRACTION.—By the advertisement of the first of the Nevada Gift Concerts for the erection of a State Insane Asylum, it will be observed that the scheme of prizes has been so changed as to make the first prize $50,000 in gold coin, and so as to give each ticket holder a chance to win not only the capital prize, but a prize of from $25,000 to $5 in every ten chances or less. This change was made at the suggestion of the New York agents of the scheme and in accordance with Eastern demand. Arrangements have now been made by which the tickets will be promptly sold and the drawing take place at the date advertised—September 4. As the demand for the tickets in the Eastern States is most positive, if the people of Nevada would keep the large prizes at home, they must invest without delay. [Virginia Enterprise, Aug. 8, 1873.]

DR. DARWIN'S book on domesticated plants and animals does not support the prevailing notion that the union of near kin inevitably and speedily ruins the race, yet shows that the posterity are sooner or later weakened by it if long continued. But a careful collector of statistics of marriages between blood relations, Dr. Bernies, of Kentucky, insists that he has found ten per cent. of the deaf and dumb, five per cent. of the blind and fifteen per cent. of the idiots admitted into the various charitable institutions of the United States are the issues of marriages between first cousins. Unions of this kind are now prohibited in Kentucky and some other States.
